

A top-down view of a breakfast spread. In the foreground, a white ceramic bowl is filled with a breakfast dish. The base is a thick layer of white yogurt. On top of the yogurt are several slices of banana, a generous amount of golden-brown granola, and several fresh, bright red strawberries with their green leaves. In the background, a white coffee cup with a dark handle sits on a matching saucer. The entire scene is set on a light-colored, textured surface, possibly a countertop. The image is framed by a thin, white, double-line border.

The Illinois Department of Public Health advises that eating raw meat, poultry, eggs, or seafood poses a health risk to everyone, but especially to elderly, young children under age 4, pregnant women and other highly susceptible individuals with compromised immune systems. Thorough cooking of such animal foods reduces the risk of illness. For further information, contact your physician or public health department.
